This Article describes the steps for an existing customer to add a user

1 1 - Roles

We have three main roles.

Company manager

- Grants full access over all worksites, products, vehicles and users
- Allows the invitation of additional users.

Multiple company managers can be designated within a company.

Site manager:

- Can fully manage one or more worksites create and manage vehicles from the site he has access to
- Can invite users to their managed sites.
- A site manager is restricted from creating new worksites or accessing information about worksites outside their purview.

Standard user:

- Has view-only access to worksites they are authorized to see, including all related event information.
- Lacks permission to make edits.

Company managers and site managers can register a new product

2 2 - Invite a new user

Go to the "Users" submenu, which is located under the "Organization" menu. Inviting a user is only possible for a company manager and a site manager.

Click on "Create user":
